

The Online Summer Research Programme

Key Details

Teaching and Learning

Unique opportunity to experience the intensive, individual Cambridge style of learning from anywhere in the world.

In twice-weekly supervisions, students will develop their own research project.

Find out more.

Academic Support

Alongside their supervisor, students will have a designated Director of Studies to provide support and guidance.

Academic orientation at the start of the programme.

Beyond the Classroom

Online networking opportunities and events throughout the programme.

Culminating in a final event showcasing outstanding research projects.

Read about one student's journey on the programme.

Contact Hours

Students will receive 8 hours of one-to-one supervisions and 1.5 hours 'Strategies for success in your online research' session.

We expect students to spend 42 hours per week working on the programme.

Assessment

Usually a 4000-6000 word dissertation, dependent on subject area.

Deadline: 31 July 2022

More details here.

Credit

At the discretion of the home institution, but we anticipate the programme to be equivalent to 3-5 credits.

More details here.

Applications

Are now open!

Familiarise yourself with the application process here.

Applications accepted on a rolling basis so early application recommended!

Programme Fee

£2,280

There is no application fee.

We're open about what our fee covers, see the full list here.

Programme Dates

4 July – 31 July 2022

Final day of teaching: 29 July 2022

Deadline for project submission: 31 July 2022

"The programme was truly phenomenal. It has pushed me into becoming a more well-rounded student and I am so excited to continue the research I started here throughout the rest of my academic career"

Atticus Yus, University of British Columbia
Online Summer Research Programme 2021