

PEKING UNIVERSITY SUMMER SCHOOL INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM

 July 4- July 29, 2022

To give applicants more options, Peking University Summer School International 2022 will offer both online and on-site courses. Applicants can choose their preferred courses as long as they comply with the requirements of PKUSSI 2022. The feedback from our online and on-site programs from students and faculty was overwhelmingly positive, and we are committed to providing better quality courses and more varied activities to welcome you to join us.

Welcome from the Director

Dear Friends

It is my great pleasure to invite you to join the Peking University Summer School International (PKUSSI).

Since opening its door in 2009, the program has experienced burgeoning growth thanks to the dedication of PKU faculty and staff, as well as the participation of faculty and students from all over the world.

Aiming to provide international students with an accessible and high-quality platform to understand China, we tap into the brilliant pool of the university's faculty, and its international network of experts, to develop and offer a portfolio of courses that include the humanities, social sciences, and interdisciplinary studies.

In addition to creating an intensive academic environment, we hope to give you a dynamic social experience via city tours, cultural excursions, and a variety of extracurricular activities with PKU students.

I welcome you to join us this summer at the Peking University Summer School International. I am sure that your summer days here at PKUSSI will enrich your life, your studies, and even your future work.

Dr. Xia Hongwei
Director, Office of International Relations
Peking University

About the University

Peking University is ranked one of the top research universities in the world. Since its establishment in 1898, Peking University has played an integral role in the development of the Chinese nation and in the development of democracy and scientific understanding in China. The University is alma mater to many exceptional intellectuals who went on to become transformative forces firmly committed to the advancement of knowledge and betterment of society. Over time, the University's core values have been defined by the fine traditions of "patriotism, progress, democracy and science, "and governed by the academic standards of "diligence, equality, truth seeking and innovation".

Peking University is not only world renowned for its impressive campus, most notably the Weiming Lake and the Boya Pagoda, but also increasingly for its outstanding academics, vibrant student community and its all-embracing campus culture. The University, standing the test of time, continues to maintain and expand its fine traditions and strengths. It has become a research university excelling in the fields of humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, engineering, applied sciences, and medical sciences. It endeavors to pursue truth, nurture minds, advance scholarship, foster academic ventures and ultimately benefit mankind.

All pieces are in place for Peking University to become a world-class university. Amongst other key players, students undoubtedly play the most important role. Our beautiful campus is not only open to Chinese students, but also to the rest of the world. We welcome you to take part in our journey.

About the Program

Summer study at Peking University will provide you with an exciting and enriching experience.

The Peking University Summer School International (PKUSSI) began in 2009. Through over a decade of endeavors, it aims to provide aspiring students with the world's perspectives of China and China's perspectives of the world.

Academic courses with PKU credits are offered for undergraduates, graduates, and working professionals. A variety of course credits, subjects, durations, and teaching modes are available to choose. Fieldtrips as well as extracurricular and social events are also arranged for on-site participants to get more deeply immersed in the local culture and campus life.

With its unique location in Beijing, the capital city, as well as the political, cultural, financial and economic hub of China, the program will offer you all the conveniences and amenities of living in a cosmopolitan city, along with the friendly and embracing attitude of its people.

Join us this summer and explore China!

Words from the Faculty

Dr. XU Xin
Professor

Acting Director of the China and Asia-Pacific Studies Program (CAPS), Cornell University

Here at Peking University international summer school, we have a very diverse student body. There are some students who are major in politic science or history, but more students actually have very diverse educational backgrounds. It's different, dynamic, but I enjoy the learning environment exactly because of this diversity.

QIN Xuezheng
Professor

School of Economics, Peking University

China is already the world's second largest economy, and also the world's largest exporter, and manufacturers. So the spectacular economic growth during the past several decades generates a lot of interest around the world. So many students, no matter whether they are in school, or in the industry, they want to know more about China. So my course hopes to provide them with such knowledge, so they can have a better understanding of the current status as well as future challenges and polices of China's economy.

Xu Liang
Assistant Professor

School of International Studies, Peking University

We really want to expand students' understanding of Chinese state owned companies by bringing them to the company to have a in-person interactions with the management team of the company. That way, before they leave China and conclude their class, they will have a more concrete understanding of what these companies are doing in Africa and why they do it.

Cheng Ying
Assistant Professor

School of Foreign Languages, Peking University

We hope that our students can base their understanding of Africa-China interactions on concrete knowledge in the economic, political, and cultural context for both China and Africa rather than ideological assumptions. We encourage students to adopt an open interdisciplinary approach and to use these approaches to create more nuanced understandings of Africa-China interactions and to think about or reflect on their own contributions to the knowledge production in the context of the Global South.

Student Testimonials

On Online Courses

Course | Media and Society in China

“This is my first time to have this online course, the TAs are being very patient to solve my problems about the assignment and the system. I do not only learn some concepts but also some attitudes from students who take universities from all over the world.”

Course | Applied Econometrics

“Knowledgeable and experienced teaching skill. The professor can explain complicated models in a very clear way and always support with an example in real life, which is very helpful. Also, Professor Qin is very supportive. For example, if some students want to submit a formal paper, he will give us professional sources and journals to refer to help us finish it in a better way.”

“Their encouragement to students and free academic discussion atmosphere. The professor encourages students to ask questions and always answer the questions in a kind and clear way. The TA welcome discussion in Wechat Group, too.”

Course | Modern Chinese Fiction through Film

“I like the professor’s opinions toward the literature. They are inspiring. Well explained content and interesting materials allow me to have an in-depth reflection of what I learned in class and what I experienced outside class.”

Course | The Rise of China and Change in World Politics

“I like how there are quite a lot of activities and variety of material for the course which makes it interesting. I also like how the atmosphere is nice and everyone seems really supportive and encouraging of the learning.”

On On-site Courses

Course | China's Original Strategy: The Belt & Road Initiatives

“Field trips broaden my horizons and enrich my experience.”

“Hear perspectives from a Chinese point of view, and avail yourself of precious opportunities to visit public and private institutions.”

Course | Environmental China: Nature, Culture and Development

“The balance between lectures and fieldtrips allows me to have an in-depth reflection of what I learned in class and what I experienced outside class.”

“Since I am studying Environmental Science in Canada, I have had a hard time learning about the Chinese environment, and this course has provided me an excellent chance to learn more about the subject. Also, Professor Zhou is an awesome professor. She taught me the importance of critical thinking as well as made me feel interested in Environmental Science.”

Course | Chinese Constitutional & Administrative Law

“The course introduce to us the general concepts of constitutional law that gives us a good understanding of where to situate the law in society's context.”

“The class discussions are the most fascinating part in my opinion, because I can discover different opinions and thoughts from peers who come from other countries and cultures, as well as learn from the inspiration and knowledge of the professor.”
